Update: I couldn't get access to the Buehler IsoMet 1000 over the weekend, but will be working with it tonight. If all goes well, I'll have my first two watches with fordite dials complete to share this week.

I apologize for the non-Gruen-ness of this post, but I hope to earn enough money selling these dials to both cover my costs and pay for my grail watch: A 14k green gold Pentagon.
