I would love to have a correct box for each watch I own. But reality is there are more watches than boxes out there. That is why I "fix" or try to remake an original box. But still... not enough boxes for all my watches.

Other than this, I do like to wear my watches. A pile of cluttered watches doesn't help. :d

So, my solution. I buy vintage cutlery/christening set/spoon boxes. They have a velvet inside I can re-use. Or I make an insert from a second hand picture frame back. For the watch holders I use plastic elastic cord for jewelry making.

Example:

Other option is to put them in shallow trays. How do you prevent piles?
