That's really all the 997 is, in my eyes. I see a capped escape wheel, maybe Alex or others know if there's anything more technically different.

And I still do not know which (if any) of my 15J ones are actually caliber 98 vs. 99--they're all marked 98, if marked at all.

Wait--I think I just found a visual difference! I believe I do actually have at least one, true caliber 98.
