Hey mikey (he likes it) has anyone used that yet?

Can you explain what you mean in more detail. It sounds like a great idea for future use and would like to know a bit more about how. I think it's the arm that's confusing me.

Do you narrow the part with the hand (crush? cut slits in upper pipe to make it easier to narrow/fit inside the lower pipe?) then stick it into a long pipe (with no hand) and then affix the two (crush or push onto the lower?). Sorry for all the crushing but that seems like the quickest hack that will make many people cringe with an "oh no...." reaction :
