Actually, you haven't provided enough information because the Triple Date cases used both a screw and snap back.

Either way, prepare to be amazed because I got one of each. The gold case I have is a snap back while the Guildite case is a screw back, but I wouldn't put it past Gruen to have a gold Triple Date with a screw back.

PM me your address and which you want and I'll get it in the mail by the weekend.

Edit: I should also mention that I have an inner metal shield that goes between the movement and the case back. I think that it went with the snap but I'm not positive. That's yours as well if you want it.
