Subject: News forum
Posted by Jenneke on Thu, 09 May 2013 21:34:59 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Just thinking. The "Watch Shows and Fairs" forum might be a bit narrow. Maybe change it to "News"? With added explanation, f.e.: Information on Watch Shows, Fairs and new publications.

The news could be a new gruen book. Or an article on vintage watches. Or an announcment of a Gruen Guru speaking somewhere.
Or a newsarticle saying "Gruen old archives found on attic Time Hill"

Subject: Re: News forum
Posted by Gary on Thu, 09 May 2013 21:44:58 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Another excellent idea! I threw these together last night on a whim. Please do review and add what you think is missing, delete what is unnecessary. I want to use this forum as a template when we put the vanilla version of this software in production an update to what we do here.

Subject: Re: News forum
Posted by Gary on Thu, 09 May 2013 22:02:43 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Changes made! Speaking of news, this software has the ability to download NTTP Usenet news feeds. Wonder if there is such a thing as a vintage watch feed?

Subject: Re: News forum
Posted by Jenneke on Thu, 09 May 2013 22:28:03 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

GaryM Please do review and add what you think is missing, delete what is unnecessary.

Somewhat of a personal taste. But will try. Like most of your late night work!!!

Tried to stick to some rules: max 10 subforums, no overlap, Gruen focused.

What did I change:
Combined the for sale and wanted. These weren't very active used on the old Gruen home.

Removed the PW subforum. PW are also watches and therefore fit into the other subforums. And having a convertible (is it a ww or a pw? facilitated my choice where to put it.

Subject: Re: News forum
Posted by Gary on Thu, 09 May 2013 22:50:13 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I'm good with that, thanks! I'm just trying to stir the thought juices in your head. Get you all thinking. ;-)