I'm sort of a watch fanatic; you'll see everything on my wrist from vintage to the latest smart device. What other wearables do you sport on your wrist?

Pebble Classic 301RD - Hourly Anime Watchface, changes every hour.

Hi Gary,

That's an interesting watch. Is the image animated or static?

This has been my beater for the past year...

Hi Liz,

That is a static image but changes to new image every hour, I think there are 12 images in all.

Nice beater by the way! Is the dial patina or the original color?

Can't go wrong with 23 jewels in any case.

Gary,

It's the actual dial color. I can even wear this without fear while doing dishes.

Movement comes out through the front.

That's how my early 60's Omega Seamaster movement comes out. I'd say your Wyler is good as it gets for wearing and is right up along the makings of the early Seamaster's, not bad!

The Inca flex balances are a sight! Have opened a few and been impressed.

My 1960 Elgin 760 is my business wearer. Impossibly thin full rotor shock resistant auto, American made, solid 10k gold & waterproof. Not wound or set today.

And my beater Timex, a gift of my late father on my 10 year graduation anniversary.

Dan, 30 Jewels on that Lord Elgin? 8o Crazy! I've always had a heart for Timex, my first watch as a boy. Big digital text is nice for us poor eyesight folks now days.

Thanks for sharing!

This one is allways on my wrist (mostly on the left, except when I wear a Gruen wristwatch, then it is on my right arm). I helps me get off hte bench, is very usefull when I give bootcamp training and I like to know how my sleep was.

LOL Liz, you could also use that as a weapon.

Here is one that will be going with me to the senior facility, a Panerai homage...No issues reading this dial!

A while back, I was fascinated with the Panerai 3646 and got one just like that.

Unfortunately, I couldn't leave well enough alone and broke one of the lugs off while trying to tweak it a few years ago and haven't gotten around to getting a new case for it. I keep meaning to get it back up and running because it would be a good fit for my 15 year old daughter who is going through a Goth/punk phase. I'd have to find a spikey band for it.

I like the big nice simple dials. Great for us old folk.
