You can't win them all

I'm interested what this one will be selling for (251453390524). The box will be an additional $30-$50 I suppose.

The box may add to the price, but it's not a PanAm box. These boxes were sold with 335 caliber 21 jewel watches in the early 1950s.

The watch does appear to be in exceptional condition though.

I agree it looks shiny, but there is more wear to the dial compared to mine The minute track is completely gone between 2 and 4.

Here is a correct example of the content for that box, although I think not a 335.
